The school was transformed into a vibrant canvas of patriotism on Independence Day. The young minds were introduced to the essence of freedom and national pride through a series of engaging activities and spirited parade.

The day commenced with a burst of colours as the little ones adorned themselves as freedom fighters, national leaders or wore the traditional attire of their states. Their tiny steps echoed with pride as they marched in a miniature parade, a spectacle that filled the air with a sense of unity and diversity. The parade culminated in a melodious chorus of patriotic songs, "Saare Jahan Se Achcha" and "Nanha Munha Rahi Hoon," sung with innocent enthusiasm.

To instil a deeper understanding of our national symbols, students engaged in creative activities like meticulously crafting tricolour buntings, a tangible representation of the Indian flag. Their tiny hands also explored the world of art through doodle activities, expressing their patriotism in unique and imaginative ways.

To make the learning process interactive and enjoyable, students were introduced to the national animal-tiger and the national bird-peacock through hands on activities of tiger mask making and making peacock with handprints. Through stories and visuals, these magnificent creatures were brought to life, fostering a sense of wonder and respect for India's rich biodiversity.

The celebration extended beyond classrooms as students brought tri-coloured snacks and sweets to share with their classmates, promoting the spirit of sharing and camaraderie.
